- Functional testing of features developed by the team
- Contributing to requirements engineering
- Analysis and design
- Test automation
- Working on client projects with direct client contact
- Requirements gathering, analysis, design and implementation, as well as integration and testing with and at the client's premises – end-to-end
- Optimization of applications, associated tools, processes and documentation

What you bring to the role:

‘well-grounded, responsible and independent’

- A degree (from a university of applied sciences or a university) in Computer Science
- Professional experience in a similar role
- Strong analytical and conceptual thinking skills
- Good planning and organizational skills
- Strong ability to convey knowledge, as well as to lead discussions and facilitate meetings
- Good written and spoken German and English (German is the internal company language)
- Knowledge of the telecommunications sector is an advantage (carrier voice wholesale)
- The ability to work independently and a customer-focused approach are essential

What we offer you:

‘An owner-managed company with flat hierarchies and a culture of mutual respect’

- Attractive working and employment conditions with flexible working hours
- A working environment where ideas and suggestions are welcome and the customer is at the heart of everything we do
- A team with a strong commitment to professionalism and collegiality
- Regular ‘get-togethers’ for individual departments or the whole company
- Support for further training and personal development plans
- A Swiss employer with over 20 years’ international market presence

Does this sound like the right fit for you? If so, we look forward to receiving your full application, including your salary expectations, in electronic form, addressed to Markus Wehinger at jobs@carriercall.com. Only direct applications will be accepted.
