

XCarrier Core Functions

XCarrier Core contains generic functionalities that can be reused in masks/GUIs or the existing XCarrier applications.

These include functions such as simple and advanced filtering, sorting, layouts, import and export functions, deep copy and multi-edit functions.

Core functions are specifically geared towards performance and Big Data applications. More advanced analysis functions include

- the Data Analyzer, which can be used to compile Big Data pivot information, or
- the Advanced Query Builder, which can initiate specific database queries and generate corresponding results.
